KMH ARCHITECTS

Junior Architect

University of Johannesburg Auditorium, Johannesburg, Gauteng

An existing university theatre that was destroyed during protest actions. Work was mainly on site, drawing construction details as refurbishments were identified on site.

Market theatre Additions

The new Market Theatre designed by our senior architects required storage facilities around Newtown that were urgently designed and required technical documentation.

Windybrow theatre refurbishment

An existing heritage building that required interior refurbishment. These included careful restoration of the architraves, skirtings and flooring. Tender and council submission drawings were produced. A project that required extensive detail documentation.

Conceptual proposals for commercial, retail and residential projects:

- Pietermaritzburg retail and commercial additions.
- Nelson Mandela multi-purpose centre located in Qunu as a tourism destination
- Pietermaritzburg mixed-housing developments
